

"I thought this was a real paper" - Tom Uhma

Fairy Tale Dept.

Many years ago, there was a place called Fair City, in which there was a newspaper. Once the Editors of this newspaper made a mistake. (Can you believe it?) The Lords of Housing who ruled over Fair City had declared that from Monday to Thursday, the hours of visiting in Fair City were from 4 P.M. to 10 P.M. But the Editors committed the crime of printing that the hours of visiting were from 4 P.M. to 11 P.M.!!! Can you imagine the confusion that this caused??? It may have even led to having girls in rooms after 10 P.M., the hour officially established by the Lords of Housing!!! What an abomination!!! Acting on the assumption that the Editors, obviously not being human, could make mistakes, the heads of the government in Fair City were outraged, and even threatened the Chief Editor that it would be advisable that he check his facts before printing them in the future, or it would mean.... (We hasten to print the horrible fate reserved for the Editors, though it might be the study of Siberian lyric poetry, or some similar torture) In any case, the Editors ran in terror to their monastic office, where they prayed unceasingly that they would never again make mistakes. While doing so, they burned their sacrificial fire potion (Noxema shaving lotion supplied by the Chief Editor) and promised to the Gods to remain pure and chaste and uphold the virtuous tenets of Fair City forever.

- Mother Vulture

Exciting News Dept.

Nominations for Men's Council positions - President, Vice-President, Treasurer, and Secretary - are now open. Nomination forms, signed by ten Fort Camp male residents, must be submitted by midnight, March 11, to Ted Almond in Room 4 of Hut 22. Elections will be held on March 18. Candidates must have lived in Fort Camp for five months. Candidates can have statements published in next week's Fort Camp news - these should be submitted by next Tuesday, March 12, to the Fort Camp News Office.

Exciting Council News Dept. - reported by Bill Anderson

Fort Camp tackles Totem Park's team in hockey Sunday night - why not go?...The curling bonspiel on March 16 has twenty-two rinks signed up and promises to be great fun...The Fort Camp council is raffling again, this time it's not Italian pop - you'll hear about it... Men's sex talk this Thursday - it'll be worth going even if you have practical experience...another Dance and the Spring dinner on March 21... Next year women's late leave restrictions will go, but you had better get good marks, or face a taking to...A Fort Camp committee is going to put forward a motion to a Senate committee that the "drinking in the room" farce will be removed and the provincial laws will be the only restriction.

Hypocrisy Dept.

Two 26ers of liquor will be raffled off in Fort Camp to buy trophies for the Curling Bonspiel. There will be a beer raffle in each hut to raise money for a purpose which Men's Council is keeping secret for the near future. A party will be held at Cecil Green Park in April for the new council to meet the old. And liquor will be served. And the Men's Council pretends to be upholding the no-liquor rule established for the purpose of keeping the university's good image.

Politics Dept.

Women's Council Convenors for Athletics, the Annual, Special Events, and Public Relations Officer have been appointed: they are Madelyn Hillbom, Kathy Farmer, Anita Dravinskis, and Linda Davis. Applicants for the position of Social Convenor should apply in writing to the Women's Council.

Elections will be held Tuesday night for Hall Chairmen and Vice-President. Sharon Erickson, Natalie Sadouski, and Linda Laidlaw are running for Vice-President.

LIAHO Dept.

Liaho-ho's - E.P. had the courage of his convictions at a recent political meeting - putting his money where his mouth is...another local political character also at the meet was Ken Pitchintroff...we got one guy here with a beer belly so bad he's been offered a maternity dress...LIAHO challenges any hut(s) to a hockey ball game any time, any where, any way. Special challenge to Half-Yard Club who keep bragging about their stick-handling ability...the latest thing is practising hockey ball at 1 A.M....(that is late)...Zip-man's theme song since a week ago is "Blowing in the Wind". You never know who you meet down on that street... budding architect G.A. has advanced to the stage of sand castle construction...

Western Wonderland - Only LIAHO knows...how late (early) Charlie was entertaining this weekend...what girls tried escaping from third floor M.M....who was messing around at SPU last weekend...why 7 is brighter than oranges are fast when jumping over eggs in March...?????....what a Hut 4 HANDLOGGER really is...the 17 definitions LIAHO

LIAHO Culture: Sunday Morning

There among the wet leaves rotting slowly long after passing autumns have trembled, malignant hopes struggle.

At times I have been lost, like you, in the midst of this soul engulfing decay.

Though often have I returned and trodden through this wood,
with passing years and thoughts,
the morning rain mist obscures
nothing that was before, Thus I am never free from illusionary childhood perfection.

Standards (?) Dept.

Lately, the Dons and Resident Fellows in the Women's Dorms have been reporting rule-breaking to Housing Administration, instead of to the Standards Committee. The Committee will meet Thursday to discuss this situation and decide on a discipline policy. Women's President Sue Mitchell warned girls that rules are still in effect this year, particularly late leaves. However, all infractions of these rules will be handled by the Standards Committee.

Relevant Quote Dept.

"Her pealing organ was my neighbour too...." - Wordsworth, The Prelude, Book III, l. 57